Hi Claire,

We have put together a couple possible diagrams, responding to your comment on the last draft Best Practices (now Recommendations) document that was distributed.

Any diagram with 11 parts is tough to do in an elegant way, and even tougher to make small enough that it would fit in the footer of each page. We've tried to make it as clean as possible, but are considering having it be just on the first page of each section, in part because of size and because it would make the doc even longer.

Anyway, we wanted to get your feedback and see if we were headed in the right direction with these

Thanks,
Carrie
